I ty years ago an American natural st. Dana, discovered on the surface of the sea a little animal of so singular a character that he named it "monstrilla." It is a small crustacean, akin to the cyclops so common in ponds. But while the latter are fur-nis, ed with all that is necessary to capture and digest their food, the monstrilla has neither apparatus for selzing prey, nor digestive tube. It is richly provided with muscles; nervous system, organs of sense, and sexual or gans: it-only-lacks-what-is-necessary to prolong life by alimentation. The monstrilla is doomed therefore tural death.—Harper's Magazine.

WOMAN AND THE BALLOT.

Shall woman be invested with the ballot? The question is not one of the simple right us the equal of man, but is it wise, is it best? I do not deny the inborn right of wom an to smoke elgarettes or to use the rough language of men, but most of us are inclined to believe that women who do those things as some one has put it. "no gentlemen." and if the sexes are to be equalized I would per if were done by refining the men than by the wnlearlying of women.

Shall we invest woman with the ballot? Candidly, I believe that such an enlargement of her sphere woul not only violate the sacred laws of her being, but add nothing to the high and holy mission which her own unmistakably defines. Would a Woman's vote after things? Les, if only good women vote. Eve good women would avail themselves of the privilege, but all the had women would

THE DISINTEGRATION OF FAMILY LIFE.

By David Greer, D. D.

The greatest of all dangers that threaten the future of this country is in the disintegration of family life. For this the restaurant, with its save trouble, save labor tency, is responsible. There is in those days little of the simple, boautiful unison of famiites, the love of parent or of brother and sister. The ego rules. All things are for self, What the end will be I do not know. But I do not, like the pessimist, cry "chaos!" For, after all, American men and women have the great, heart, large sympathy and strength of purpose that make the great ness of a untion. The pursuit of money, within the tions, has its good side. Our mighty danger is that this commercialism will develop into a fever:

this hope and his hope for the future of our people lies not in the cities, but in those thousands of quietlittle towns and cities scattered over the country, where people learn to live. Por it is in these pl find the true ideal of pure and unselfish American woinanhood and manhood. true home life the highest type of Americanism-is to places come every day the be found there. who are to make history, and in them lies our best hope.

JAMAICAN GOVERNOR EJECTS UNCLE SAM'S TARS.

Briton's Pride Is Hurt by Seeing American Marines in Kingston Streets, and He Refuses to Let

Practically ordered from the island Governor Swettenham, the American battleships Indiana and Missouri and the gunboat Yankton, under command of Admiral Davis, ceased their work of mercy at Kingston and sailed way for Cuba and marines who had acted as nurses. Behind they left scores of victims of the earthquake, with broken limb fractured skulls and ghastly wounds who were begging for assistance. They applied in valu for treatment at the government hospital, and many ere-dring for lack of medicines and attention which the island authorities did not have, and seemingly were makng no effort to obtain.

Governor Swettenham, from the first, resented the presence of the America marines on British soil. His pride revolted when he saw the blumbacket efficiently guarding the consulate, directing the work of clearing the street and overawing the lawless crowds of blacks in a manner which the local authorities were unable to do. This feeling culminated in a sarcastic letter admiral peremptorily requesting Mim to re-embark all the details of men which and been landed.

Admiral Davis was shocked at th Governor's attitude, and being desirous of doing everything possible for the helpless and suffering populace paid a visit to the Governor. There he was received with scant courtesy, and as he left announced to the Governor that since he desired no further assistance, he had taken the liberty to con velt for the naval supply slrip Celtic to proceed to the island and distribute its cargo of supplies among the needy diate compliance with Governor Swet-scientist in the government employ, it appears to be a fact that bacteria are able to cause the breaking down of stone walls.

Recent investigations have shown that nitrifying bacteria swarm in the mud forced by the disintegration of cement in reservoirs, and it is believed that the decay of the cement results from the action of nitrous acid produced by the bacteria. Yet these same microscopic engineers, whose myriads undermine solid walls of masonry, are nevertheless of immense use to man, because they are chief agents in the purification of water. Philadelphia

MAP SHOWING PLACES THAT FIGURE IN STORY OF EARTHQUAKE.

The map shows in Kingston the location of the Myrtle Bank hotel and parish church, the destruction of which figures prominently in reports of the earthquake and fire; outside the city proper, the race course, now one of the-enmps of the homeless, and the Up Park military camp, where the greatest loss of life in a single building occurred, forty patients in the hospital being killed in the destruction of that littliding. On the poninsula in the lower part of the map may be seen the location of Port Royal, destroyed by earthquake and flood two centuries ago and pow again under water. At Fort Charles, near Port Royal, a battery sank into the sea with the first heavy shock, carrying with it a gunner. Dividing Kingston and Pott Royal is the channel, where new bottom formations formed by the carthquake present a danger to relief ships entering the port.
